

Remote Spirit Release

Practitioner Training

With Dr Terence Palmer PhD

ADDING VALUE TO MEDICINE

Training Programme. Structure and Guidance.

---

Contents

What is 'Remote Spirit Release'? .....	2
What Remote Spirit Release is Not .....	2
Essential characteristics of Remote Spirit Release: .....	3
The six steps to practitioner training.....	4
1.    Enrol as a Student Fellow on Patron .....	4
2.    Observe Online Practice Sessions.....	5
Online Practice Session Timings .....	5
The structure of online practice sessions .....	5
Summary of Objectives for Online Practice Sessions .....	6
3.    Training Eligibility Assessment.....	7
4.    Group Practical Workshop.....	7
Training Course Fees .....	8
5.    Post-training Online Practice .....	8
6.    Certificate of Professional Competence (CPC).....	8
Accreditation.....	9
Professional Standards Monitoring .....	10
Prospects for the New Year 2020 .....	10

What is 'Remote Spirit Release'?

REMOTE SPIRIT RELEASE & Psychic Self Defence

Remote Spirit Release (RSR) is the practice of searching for attached spirit entities and removing them from an infected patient by the use of remote methods. It is similar to other methods of spirit release insofar as the primary objective is the same, i.e., to remove negative spirit attachments. Other methods may be named Spirit Release Therapy, sometimes referred to as Spirit Release Therapy (SRT) and Spirit Response Therapy is another remote method that uses a pendulum for dowsing. For further information on the similarities and differences between spirit release, religious deliverance and ritual exorcism, see The Science of Spirit Possession (2nd edition) which is essential reading for all students and practitioners.

The book is available in hardback and softback versions directly from the publisher<sup>1</sup> with a 20% discount for all trainees and Patrons.

What Remote Spirit Release is Not

We are not exorcists and we do not 'fight' anything. We facilitate the removal of Dark Force Entities (DFEs) by the use of a special 'Protocol'.

Although the overall objective may be the same, the methods and techniques used in RSR are very different from all other forms of SRT. The significant difference is that Remote Spirit Release (RSR) is NOT a therapy. RSR practitioners are not acting as therapists, although their core professional discipline may be as a doctor, psychiatrist or other shutterstock.com • 1213050640

kind of therapist.

RSR cleans the wounded spirit and removes all negative entities, inter-dimensional species, parasites, attachments, implants, curses or earthbound spirits from the affected host in preparation for ongoing treatment, rehabilitation or therapy. The patient/subject for the clearance is not in a therapeutic relationship with the practitioner. There is no therapist/patient relationship. Remote Spirit Release is the First Response in preparation for the healing process for someone who has been affected or infected by any kind of discarnate spirit, Dark Force Entity (DFE) hex, curse or any other practice of the dark arts or black magic.

<sup>1</sup> <https://www.cambridgescholars.com/the-science-of-spirit-possession-2nd-edition>

No method of treatment, rehabilitation, therapy or medical intervention of any kind will succeed if the inner and outer etheric body of a patient has not been cleaned first. All this clearance work is conducted by the Spirit Guides (SG) and helpers in the spirit realms without the conscious awareness or practical involvement of the patient/subject of the intervention.

The skills of the practitioners are not applied as therapists, but as communicators between the Spirit Guides (SG) and the Higher Self (H-S) of the patient/subject.

RSR may therefore be acknowledged as a 'tool' in the healthcare professional or therapist's collection of techniques before any other therapy or medical intervention is attempted. In summary it is the act of 'cleaning the wounded spirit' through non-physical dimensions of human consciousness.

Essential characteristics of Remote Spirit Release:

- Non-local. That is beyond time and space
- The remote method is sometimes referred to as 'at a distance'. This means that there is no face-to-face contact between practitioner and patient.
- Clairvoyance – clear seeing at a distance
- Clairaudience – clear hearing at a distance
- Telepathy – thought transference at a distance
- The use of spiritual 'mediums'
- Spirit Guides (SG) and their helpers do the work – not the practitioners
- There is no patient/doctor relationship
- There are no 'therapists' in the procedure.

Due to the dangerous nature of some of the negative spirits, or Dark Force Entities (DFEs) encountered, our particular method of working involves three members working as a team.

1. Facilitator
2. Medium
3. Spirit Guide

The facilitator's job is to control the proceedings by following the prescribed 'Protocol', to protect the medium from dark force intervention and to assist their return to normal conscious awareness. Facilitators do not need to be mediumistic and are preferably trained health-care professionals or practising therapists in hypnosis or psychotherapy.

The medium's job is to convey information between the Spirit Guide (SG), the patient's Higher-Self (H-S) and the facilitator. Mediums do not need to be trained healthcare professionals, but they do need to be able to communicate with spirits in a healthy and controlled way.

The Spirit Guide's (SG) role is to answer the facilitator's questions and carry out cleansing operations with the aid of other spirit beings. Spirit Guides are asked to provide advice and guidance to the patient/subject via the medium and facilitator.

The six steps to practitioner training

1. Enrol as a Student Fellow on Patron
2. Observe online practice sessions
3. Eligibility assessment
4. Group practical workshop on site
5. Post-training online practice
6. Certificate of Professional Competence (CPC)

1. Enrol as a Student Fellow on Patron

Registration as a Student Fellowship Patron<sup>2</sup> means a monthly contribution to our research fund of a mere $9 per month. Student fellows are invited to observe other trainees in online practice sessions at no additional cost. Student fellows have free access to all educational material posted on our Patron community platform and will be notified every time a new item is published.

All Patrons are entitled to a 20% discount on The Science of Spirit Possession (2nd ed).

All Patrons benefit from a 20% discount on spiritual health check referrals for friends and family.

---

<sup>2</sup> <https://www.patreon.com/join/1986587?>

Student Fellowship Patrons are eligible to request a personal spiritual health check (SHC) if they are regularly observing or participating in online practice sessions.

2. Observe Online Practice Sessions

Online practice sessions are essentially a FREE preliminary course in Remote Spirit Release for Student Fellowship Patrons in preparation for a hands-on face-to-face group workshop training course.

The online observation period has no set time limit and can be used by the prospective trainee to read up on research from the recommended reading list which is available on the main website bookshop.<sup>3</sup>

Online Practice Session Timings

There are currently three weekly sessions of online practice:

- For the USA and Canada every Monday evening (19:00 EST)
- For the UK and Europe every Tuesday evening (19:00 GMT)
- For the UK and Europe every Thursday evening (19:00 GMT)

Students are welcomed into any group they choose, and you may choose to participate in all three if your circumstances permit.

Online practice sessions allow the prospective trainee to get to know other students, trainees and qualified practitioners who have already been trained and have committed themselves to the programme. The outcome of this is that we have a peer group network that spans the globe from the West Coast of North America, South America, across the UK and Europe and all the way to the Indian Ocean.

The structure of online practice sessions

All online practice sessions are treated as a classroom meeting and all participants are expected to be properly dressed and fully attentive with no distractions in their environment. Be sure to have a reliable internet connection. If a smart phone or tablet is being used please ensure that it is stable and secure. Sit in front of the device so that you can be clearly seen. An unstable device or intermittent movement is distracting for other participants. Please do not use your device as a 'window' onto the practice session whilst you prepare your dinner in the kitchen. The key to any successful practice session is 'focussed attention' and consideration for others.

Be punctual and aim to join the meeting at the prescribed time. Sometimes it may take a few minutes to get the correct connection due to technical difficulties. It is therefore wise to be sure that your equipment is reliable and you are familiar with the procedure for connecting through the Zoom<sup>4</sup> software. So please be well prepared to avoid joining a meeting late.

---

<sup>3</sup> <https://www.terencepalmer.co.uk/bookshop/>

<sup>4</sup> <https://zoom.us/>

The first fifteen minutes of a meeting allows for introductions of new trainees and greetings between friends and known colleagues. Identify yourself with your real name. Pseudonyms or anonymous observation are not conducive to the development of trust. These are closed groups and not for public observation. There is therefore no need to be incognito. All members are known to each other and trust is built during these practice sessions. There then follows a short meditation to allow participants to adopt the required state of mind and for the group to establish a 'collective energy'.

When all new introductions are completed and the group energy is established the practice session will begin with the requests for member's personal Spiritual Health Checks (SHC). Any Patron who wants a personal SHC may put in a request in advance of the meeting by email, giving name, location and age (not date of birth) to the Host. A pair of trained practitioners, comprising of one facilitator and one medium, are then invited to practice their command of the 'Protocol' for the benefit of those who have requested a personal SHC.

New prospective trainees are advised to have a copy of the 'Protocol' in front of them so that they can follow the procedures that are being practiced. The latest version of the Protocol is available in the 'Training' posts.

SHCs may be recorded with an audio recording device or directly with Zoom audio/visual. Participants who do not wish to be seen on a recording may disconnect their webcam in order to maintain anonymity for the case. Each SHC is discussed with feedback reporting from the subject and practice team as well as comments and questions from observers.

Online sessions usually last for about one and a half hours and this allows sufficient time for three SHCs to be addressed.

Note: Any participant treating the meeting in a disrespectful manner or ignoring these guidelines may be disconnected without notice and not invited to participate in further sessions.

Summary of Objectives for Online Practice Sessions

- New students to observe previously trained practitioners in the use of the 'Protocol'.
- New students, trainees and qualified practitioners are invited to request a personal SHC in order to provide opportunities for practice.
- Trained students to practice their application of the 'Protocol' for members' SHCs.
- Training eligibility assessments for prospective trainees.

If you want to be invited to an online practice session let the Host of your preferred practice group know by email.

- For USA on Mondays ask George Worsley gjworley@gmail.com
- For UK on Tuesdays ask Dr T Palmer palmert55@gmail.com
- For UK on Thursdays ask David Graham. davegraham1954@gmail.com

3. Training Eligibility Assessment

During the observation period, students are NOT required to demonstrate any skills they may have learned from previous training or courses from other schools until after they have been assessed for eligibility by our own trusted Spirit Guides.

Candidates with ongoing psychological problems will not be considered for practical training and practice sessions are not to be used for personal therapy. Candidates with unresolved psychological issues may choose to be counselled by an experienced practitioner in confidence outside of practice sessions.

Prospective facilitators will be required to submit documentary evidence of their highest academic and professional qualifications prior to acceptance for practical training.

Prospective mediums will be required to demonstrate that they are able to communicate with a trusted spirit guide in a safe and controlled way.

Prospective mediums who are not yet experienced are advised to become trained in safe mediumship by a qualified and experienced mediumship tutor.

4. Group Practical Workshop

Experience has taught us that there is no substitute for on-the-ground, face-to-face training.

Group practical workshops are where background reading research and knowledge gained from observation are put into practice in the practical application of the Remote Spirit Release 'Protocol'.

Group workshops are convened when a sufficient number of student fellows have agreed to come together in one geographical location in order to learn the practical skills in teams working together face-to-face.

Each participant is invited to submit a case for fellow trainees to work on. A case may be for one's self or a friend or family member.

Healthcare professionals and established therapists with their own clients may request a client's case to be worked on with consideration that client confidentiality will be waived. All cases worked on in a practical training workshop are recorded for case study.

Each case must be registered for inclusion in advance of the group workshop.

Each group workshop outside of the UK has one key person who acts as the group Host and takes on the responsibility of coordinating the workshop administration and logistics. A previous host of a highly successful group training workshop in the United States offers his suggestions for a successful training event.<sup>5</sup>

Training Course Fees

Courses outside of the UK are structured to run for five consecutive days at a cost of £100 per day for each tutor, plus travel and accommodation expenses.

Courses held within the UK are structured to run over the course of two weekends. The price of each weekend module is £247 per person. (Non-residential – this may change).

5. Post-training Online Practice

Following the practical hands-on training are ongoing opportunities for practice with colleagues' spiritual health checks (SHC) for the development of confidence and efficacy with a view to being certified as a competent practitioner.

Online post-training practice sessions continue to be FREE of any additional cost for all registered Student Fellowship and Qualified Patrons. However, these practice sessions are NOT to be used as free treatment sessions for friends, family or clients.

Any Patron may request a personal spiritual health check (SHC) in advance of meetings by email to the Host giving name, location and age (not date of birth). These personal health checks are an important benefit for all registered Patrons and they do provide excellent material for trained practitioners to enhance their skills and grow in confidence.

Students who have completed the group training are encouraged to establish working relationships with other trainees where they are able to practice and develop their skills. These team partnerships and practice sessions may be conducted independently of the online practice sessions.

Practice cases need to be recorded for efficacy reporting so that a trainee's competence may be assessed for certification as a competent practitioner.

Trainees are free to offer their services to friends and family pro-bono if they so choose in the interests of gaining practice. However, it is advised that trainees use their 20% discount for serious cases that require the expertise of experienced practitioners in confidence.

Trainees may describe themselves as a qualified Remote Spirit Release Practitioner after their efficacy has been assessed and approved by the granting of a Certificate of Professional Competence (CPC).

6. Certificate of Professional Competence (CPC)

The one essential criterion for the efficacy of our work is the affirmative answer to the question,

---

<sup>5</sup><https://www.terencepalmer.co.uk/wp-content/uploads/2019/12/Useful-Tips-for-Hosting-a-Remote-Spirit-Release-Training-Event.pdf>

“Does it work?”

The answer to this question for each and every spirit release practitioner can only come from practical application and follow-up reporting from cases that have been treated. When a trainee feels that they have sufficient experience and their confidence has been reinforced with positive feedback then they may apply for a CPC. Evidence of competence is to be presented for critical evaluation with a minimum of two recorded sessions together with written testimonials.

Applications for professional competence are evaluated by a peer group of experienced practitioners and their spirit guides. The essential question to be addressed in assessing the competence of a candidate is,

“Would you be confident to work with this candidate for the benefit and well-being of your own clients?”

Collaboration and cooperation between practitioners are an advantage of belonging to a network of trained professionals. However, accreditation or the issue of a Certificate of Professional Competence (CPC) is not a licence to expect referrals from colleagues. Each practitioner is responsible for managing their own practice and their own clientele.

Trainees who are already established as a qualified healthcare professional or therapist are encouraged to incorporate the RSR Protocol into their therapeutic practice with clients after upgrading from Student Fellow to Certified Practitioner or a Healthcare Professional with our Patron registration system.

Accreditation

On the award of a Certificate of Professional Competence (CPC), the trainee has the option to apply for accreditation from the International Practitioners of Holistic Medicine accreditation board (IPHM).<sup>6</sup> This is not mandatory, but registration as an approved RSR Practitioner or as a Healthcare Professional with our Patron community<sup>7</sup> is suggested for professional cross-referrals and to maintain and strengthen your peer group.

A significant advantage of the structure of this training programme is the cohesion of an expanding group of dedicated professionals in the application of Remote Spirit Release (RSR). Ongoing support between active participating members of the group is a given and is proving to be of enormous benefit to those members who maintain their connection with colleagues.

Remote Spirit Release is not yet recognised as an accredited health care profession and therefore has no professional institution or code of ethics unto itself. Until such time as RSR is recognised by the healthcare institutions, all practitioners are expected to adhere to the code of ethics of their chosen profession.

---

<sup>6</sup> <https://www.iphm.co.uk/>

<sup>7</sup> <https://www.patreon.com/join/1986587?>

Professional Standards Monitoring

The School for Remote Spirit Release is to appoint a panel of adjudicators to manage the following:

- The hosting of online meetings
- Group training workshops
- Eligibility assessment of candidates
- Monitoring professional standards
- Ethics
- Granting certificates of professional competence (CPC)s
- Complaints

Prospects for the New Year 2020

It is anticipated that training workshops are to be held in London at the premises of the Royal Society of Medicine for the training of psychiatrists and other healthcare professionals. These workshops will demand a high level of professionalism that is expected by the medical profession. We will need a number of mediums to compliment the healthcare professionals for them to work with in teams. It is therefore important for us all to raise the bar in order for our skills to be recognised by mainstream medicine.

Welcome to the challenge and have a good year.

Blessings to All

Dr T Palmer